Catechism on Holy Week

With a brief look at the intention of Archbishop Bugnini on reforming Holy Week under Pius XII, we saw that the concept of pastoralism was the key to understanding this reform. But let me be quite blunt here – what fruits has the liturgical reform of the Archbishop produced? Since these reforms took place we see only three areas of growth in the Church; Eucharistic ministers, permanent deacons and annulments. This is one reason why we chose to use the traditional liturgical books. There are other examples I could use, such as the RCIA. 70% of those who enter the Church through this program will leave it in one year.

Know that at the heart of the liturgical reforms was what Fr. Louis Bouyer called a scientism (which he said was never scientific enough). All must be explainable; all obscurity must disappear under the examination of the light of science. All saints who cannot be scientifically accounted for must be dropped from the calendar.

But to this I would use the words of Henry Beston, from his beautiful book called Northern Farm: “Among the many things for which I remain profoundly grateful is the fact that so much of life defies human explanation. The unimaginative and the dull may insist that they have an explanation for everything, and level at every wonder and mystery of life their popgun theories, but God be praised, their wooden guns have not yet dislodged the smallest star. It is well that this be so, for the human spirit can die of explanations, even if, like many modern formulae, they are but explanations which do not explain.

A world without wonder, and a way of mind without wonder, becomes a world without imagination, and without imagination man is a poor and stunted creature. Religion, poetry, and all the arts have their sources in this upwelling of wonder and surprise. Let us thank God that so much will forever remain out of reach, safe from our inquiry, inviolate forever from our touch.”

Please pray for the sick:

The Carmelite Monastery is located at 6138 S. Gallup St. in Littleton, about 1 mile from OLMC.

From the Pastor:

- The intention for this week's holy hour is for the sanctification of priests.

- The Holy Father has declared June 8th as a World Day of Sanctification of Priests. We won't be doing any particular parish devotions that day, but keeping this intention in your prayers would be a good thing to do.

- It strikes me that the Civil War Living History Weekend this September in Sidney, OH, will be having the Traditional Mass out in the field with the re-enactors. I've heard of this in several places. They want authenticity right down to the vestments!

- We sure could use some more ushers, so if you are a man of age who would like to help Our Lady in the celebration of the Mass, please consider being an usher. Our Lady will smile upon you for your generosity.

- Sometimes I'm asked about the morality of IVF (In Vitro Fertilization). This is basically a process where an egg is fertilized in a test tube/petri dish. Eggs are collected via laparoscope. The seed collected via self-abuse. Normally, many eggs are fertilized, and the "healthiest" of them are implanted. The rest are either destroyed or cryofrozen. These facts alone should be sufficient to make any Catholic refuse to engage in such, but to put it more bluntly, IVF cannot be used because:

1. Unused embryo's are destroyed (they are the "wrong sex" or have some genetic defect, or the parents just change their minds and decide they don't want the embryos).

2. It is dangerous experimentation on embryos; over 500K are already frozen indefinitely.

Announcements:

Altar Flowers

This week's altar flowers are in memory of +Larry Hall by Terrie & Eric Thaler.

Second Collection

All monies collected in the Poor Box on today, will be sent to two recently ordained FSSP Deacons, Rev. Mr. Luc Poirier and Rev. Mr. John

3. Self-abuse cannot be justified for any reason.

4. The process excludes the unitive aspect of the marital act. The procreative act is also perverted because the egg and seed are brought together without natural intercourse.

5. It violates the child's right to be conceived through a natural act. If a surrogate is used, it also violates the child's right to be carried in the womb of his own mother.

- Since entering the Carmel in Elysburg, PA, Sr. Breanne (Jade Banks, when she was a parishioner here), is doing very well, thanks to God! She is grateful for the letters she has received and wishes she could write back. But she can't until she is a fully professed nun. She has gone through many great trials already (everyone does, and particularly nuns when they first enter), but is coming through them. Of course there are the funny things that happen too. The nuns dress in the dark and use candlelight to make their way to the chapel in the early morning. On one occasion, much to her humility, her postulant's dress was on backwards. On July 7th, she will receive the Carmelite habit and a religious name of Sr. Rosa Maria of the Sorrowful Heart. How I would love to attend the Mass when this happens! But there is no way.

- And speaking of former parishioners, Br. Thomas Mary of Jesus and the new foundation of the Hermits of Our Lady of Mt. Carmel are doing well, thanks to God. If you would like to help them financially, they sure could use it! For information on the order and to make a donation, their website is: www.eremitaednmc.org

Killackey to help them as they prepare for their priestly ordination next year. This money will be used to acquire sacred vessels and vestments, and to help their families travel to their ordination next May.

Evangelization Opportunity

In June, parishioner Steve Cunningham is evangelizing at two events: The People's Fair, which is in downtown Denver, June 2-3, and the youth
