The Revolution Devours One of Its Own (Frank Wright, Lifesite News)

The prominent atheist and biologist Richard Dawkins announced [recently] that his Facebook account had been closed and deleted without warning. "Was it something I said?" he asked... Dawkins, a leading figure in the so-called "New Atheist" movement, had recently entered the fray over the inclusion of a non-biological “woman” in the recent Olympics in France... Following an obscene, blasphemous and regicidal ceremony designed by a homosexual, the Olympic welterweight women’s boxing event was marred by the inclusion of a competitor from Algeria, who, according to Dawkins, “carries a male chromosome and is therefore a biological male.”

Dawkins is no stranger to controversy. Weeks before the evidence-based remarks which appear to have prompted his removal from the social media platform, he asked, “Is it ever morally justifiable to lie/hide/deny certain scientific facts?”

Dawkins’ offending post has now itself been deleted... [prompting speculation that] this was all about the burning question of our modern times: what is a woman? Dawkins argues that the alleged presence of a Y chromosome in Algerian boxer Imane Khalif decides the pronouns. Women have a pair of two X chromosomes, men XY. This is a basic fact of human biology known to schoolchildren.

Dawkins, who has not lost his sense of humor over the matter, went on to post this meme:

Dawkins has form in tackling the capture of culture by the redefinition of basic reality. He responded with “contemptuous ridicule” to a measure to ban from science words such as “male, female, man, woman, mother, father...” The measures... were promoted towards “inclusion” in the discussion and conduct of scientific inquiry [resulting in] “...a repository of ‘problematic words’ which have been identified by US and Canadian scientists as harmful and it suggests alternatives”.

Dawkins responded in a defiant tone. “I shall continue to use every one of the prohibited words. I am a professional user of the English language. It is my native language.” [Dawkins] described the authors of the report as juvenile, censorious puritans: “I am not going to be told by some teenage version of Mrs Grundy which words of my native language I may or may not use.”

Having been made (briefly) faceless on Facebook, Dawkins may be minded to recall what has been lost in the transition of our culture from that of Christianity to a rights-based utopia policed by ideological purists.

The strident atheist announced himself a “cultural” Christian in March 2024, having found himself appalled at the so-called culture which has grown up in its absence. Dawkins tweeted: “We are culturally a Christian country and I call myself a cultural Christian. I feel at home in the Christian ethos. If I had to choose between Christianity and Islam, I’d choose Christianity every single time.”

[In my most recent sermon on Evolution I opined: This is not some armchair issue... Think of the enormous number of souls who were impeded in - or lost - their faith due to a lie. Think of Richard Dawkins.]

CATHOLIC HOSPICE

Our mission is to provide Catholic home hospice care, support, and education that honors the dignity of each person we serve.

What is hospice?

Sometimes, a person living with an illness may find it has progressed beyond control or a cure, or long-term treatment may become ineffective. Hospice care is designed to support individuals and their loved ones once a decision is made to move from treatment to comfort.

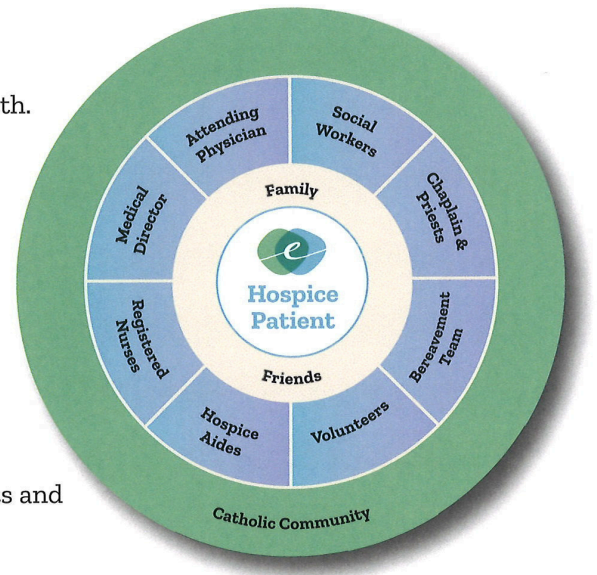

Hospice specializes in end-of-life care focusing on comfort, symptom management and quality of life. The care is delivered by a team of experts: medical doctors, registered nurses, social workers, chaplains, certified nursing assistants and volunteers. Working closely together, this team is dedicated to ensure comfort and dignity of the whole person.

Why Emmaus Catholic Hospice?

Care through Emmaus Catholic Hospice neither hastens nor delays death. We embrace God's perfect timing as we serve and support each person and their loved ones through their unique life journey. Emmaus Catholic Hospice provides comprehensive care over a period of days, weeks, or months — until natural death.

Emmaus Catholic Hospice is committed to home hospice care rooted in Catholic moral and ethical standards for individuals on their sacred journey home. This care centers on the person, with extended support and compassion for the family and loved ones at all times, including 13 months of bereavement support.

Providing authentically Catholic hospice care allows us to serve patients and families of all faiths and backgrounds.

Whether seeking hospice care at home or a facility, patients and families have a choice as to their hospice care provider. Emmaus Catholic Hospice is honored to be the choice for patients and families seeking high-quality, compassionate, authentically Catholic end-of-life care.

Please reach out to Emmaus Catholic Hospice with any questions or additional information needs.
